

ELATEVE

THE RIPPLE — TEEN HORMONES

The Storm

She (and you) deserve real support here — not just products, but tools for the conversation itself.

Your Tips & Tricks

- 01 Prioritize her sleep environment first — cooling sheets, blackout curtains, a consistent bedtime.
- 02 Seek a provider experienced with adolescent hormonal health, not just a general check-up.
- 03 Introduce a shared journal so she can express what's hard to say out loud.
- 04 Keep skincare minimal and soothing until things stabilize — less is more right now.
- 05 Build in a weekly low-pressure ritual together (tea, a show, a walk) to keep connection strong.
- 06 Remember: intense doesn't mean permanent. Most turbulence here softens with time and support.
